

Executive retreats in the heart of Istria

A thoughtfully curated setting for productive conversations, strategic thinking, and genuine connection.

Autumn in Istria provides the ideal backdrop for focused meetings, leadership retreats, and corporate gatherings. Designed for executives and decision-makers, the Executive Package combines a productive working environment with attentive service, exceptional dining, and opportunities for meaningful connection.

The Orangery meeting venue, available for complimentary use, offers a private setting supported by state-of-the-art technology and dedicated event coordination. Personalised coffee breaks, networking cocktails, and curated dining experiences allow conversations to continue naturally beyond the meeting table, while wellness facilities provide space to unwind and recharge.
